Skype is a kind of software that lets you send text messages, voice messages and videos. It was designed by Janus Friis and Niklas Zennstron in 2003. The Skype code is closed, meaning it's private, but interested users can freely download the application. That happens on the official web site. The main objective of Skype is to speak for free. At the moment Skype is very common in all households.

Since 2013, Windows Live Messenger net was integrated into Skype; one MSN user can begin a session with the same user credentials as Windows Live or Skype. Skype lets users call telephones for low prices and you can call almost all telephone numbers in the world.

Another option that Skype allows is that it permits you to have a number of telephone numbers to contact any computer anywhere in the world, and it supplies a service of voice mail.

We can identify Skype in our Computers by its logo. The logo of the Skype has a shape of a cloud. Access is very easy; we have only to click on it. Another interesting thing is that it is possible to start one conversation among different users using the same application. This program also permits voice mail messages in case users can't find anyone available. People always have the opportunity to be in contact with other people.

The advantage of Skype is that it is totally free using a Wi-Fi connection and it is very useful not only with the PC, but also with the mobile phone too.

TV affects our children

Nowadays children watch a lot of content on TV, some of this is educational, other content is enjoyable and other types of content are inappropriate for kids. That delicate content can generate psychological problems on young minds. Which kind of problems are produced by these programmes? Can these programmes create murderous inclinations? Are kids protected from this contents? You must continue reading if you want to know the answers.

This kind of attitudes have a lot of consequences, the first consequence is social, youths can leave behind their social life to dedicate more hours, more time to the small screen. Another result from the excess of watching TV are the physical problems that might occur, the box encourages a sedentary life; if someone doesn't practice sport he'll get fatter, this overweight causes health problems, in the worst case scenario; the infant can suffer a heart attack.

Those possible downsides are very dangerous, but here comes the most dangerous outcome, psychological problems produced by sensitive content like porn, murders, rapes...

It's important to control content that children watch, but with a limit, if we control them too much they won't have private life, something necessary, everyone must have secrets, if you've noticed strange behavior in a child, like obsession with things related to crimes like murders, rapes and similar you should take that child to a psychologist.

Evolution of Coke

John Pemberton created Coke on 8th May 1886 in Georgia, at that moment the chemist created the most famous drink in the world. Frank Robinson designed the logo of Coke. The chemist and his brother founded the company Coke in 1891. The first utility was to treat stomachaches. Today, Coke is 129 years old.

The formula of Coke is a secret, it is stored in a bank in Atlanta, but Time magazine sent a spy to get the secret formula of Coke on 15th February 2013. Although the company "Fresco" denied this news.

This famous drink was first sold in 1894. The first bottle was designed in 1915 by the Root Glass Company. The patent was renewed on December 25th 1923, thus creating the "Christmas" bottle. The bottle has become very popular among collectors. In 1957 The Coca-Cola Company decided to eliminate the traditional embossing of its trademark on the bottle, and replaced it with Coca-Cola in white Applied Color Labelling.

In 1960 the bottle was registered as a trademark, becoming the second package in history to be trademarked. The white Coca-Cola trademark on a red background gave color to the bottle. This two color version was used in the international markets. In 1994 Coca-Cola introduced a new plastic bottle, the Coke bottle we know today.

HAPPY HOLI- FESTIVAL OF COLOURS

What is this? Inspired in the 'Holi

Festival of colours' of India, thanks one God for the spring,

Happy Holi quickly became known as the feast of colours and love. Therefore, the party became famous. The party is full of joy, music and colours; millions of people together wear white clothes creating a palette of human colours in the moment of celebration.

When and where the party happens?

pens?

Today, the party happens in countries in Europe, South America and in the original country, of course.

In the beginning, people celebrated this festival in the spring. So today it continues to be celebrated in the spring, this festival begins exactly when spring begins, bringing colour, joy and warmth for the year. The first international Holi Festival Of Colours, was in Berlin, July of 2012.

Time to celebrate!

The festival usually takes place in the morning and usually lasts all day! Participants wear comfortable clothes and most importantly, white clothing. The festival is also celebrated with great music! Music of different types. From pop, alternative rock, hip hop and a lot of electronic music.

Every hour, a true colour of explosions occurs when everyone throws coloured powder high in the air, leaving you to experience a magical and unforgettable moment.

The Holi's spirit.

The Indians celebrate too, the victory of god in the world. And so, for one day, the differences disappear; they don't care about your culture, your country, your sexual option. This day, everybody is equal. On this day, happiness and tolerance are compulsory.

Vine

Vine is a service (a social network), which was developed by the same creator as Twitter, (they bought it from the previous owners).

The designers and creators of Vine are three men and a woman called: Don Hofmann, Yusupov Rus, Colin Kroll and Fernanda Coronado. The launch of Vine was on 24th January 2013.

It consists of recording videos of six seconds, the videos can be news, comedy videos, sports videos, funny videos...We can say that it is like Instagram, another service but it only makes short videos.

The application is controlled by the business, this means that if the video isn't appropriate you can't share it.

Recently, because of the last update on 1st July last year, 2014, they added a counter to see how many "loops" a video has, it tells you all the times a video has been replayed. There's a general counter too on the profiles of each user, it adds all the total replays of all your vines.

As a social network that it is, it has mentions. These are labels where you mention people and friends to be a part of your video.

Here there are some examples of famous people on Vine. Shawn Mendes: He has got 3.4 million followers; he is a sixteen-year-old Canadian singer-songwriter. He posts a lot of covers of songs. Us the Duo: They have got 4.3 million followers, together, husband and wife, they record covers. Lele Pons: With 5.5 million followers, she is a Miami-based teenager, best known for pulling pranks on family and friends and for her hyper-edited vines.

Itziar was going out with Calum who was a friend of the Gemeliers. Their names were Jesús and Daniel Oviedo Morilla.

One day Calum was kissing a girl that wasn’t his girlfriend and Eva was looking at them. She told Itziar and sent a photo that she took of them. Two days later Itziar and Calum broke up. Later Eva, Itziar, Jesús and Dani met in Retiro park and they ate ice cream, because they were very hungry. They sat down on a bench and they started speaking.

Dani said that Calum didn’t want to kiss her. The girl that kissed him was Irune. When they heard that name, the two sisters looked at each other and they said that she went to their class. The next day in the high school, there was a fight between Calum, Itziar and Irune. Calum, who was a very good friend of Irune, was angry with her and Itziar and Calum started going out again. Meanwhile, Eva was with Jesús and Dani, but suddenly Jesús, without saying anything, he left and Eva and Dani were alone. Eva turned red and Dani gave her a hug and he sang in her ear the single of their second album, that was called “grandes”. Then Irune appeared and she went to speak with Dani. She told him that when they met, because they were going out and hardly ever spoke. Eva started crying. Dani and Eva went to the place where their friends were. They told them what happened.

ADOLESCENCE

What is adolescence? A stage, but... What kind? an easy, beautiful one? Perhaps, I hope. For me it's not. I think that it is hard, maybe the most. Your body changes, you're going to develop day after day and slowly start to think differently, to look at life from another angle, not as a simple fairy tale, but something very different. Worst of all is love. You'll notice someone with a simple smile makes you happy, as if the people around you are not around. You can fall in love with someone who never is going to fail, or some asshole, who knows.

Only you are under the influence of that mystery, love. That weird feeling that you can't control, that from one moment to another you can be at the top or sink into the most humid and dark well that exists. It is strange too. Perhaps one day you will get to understand it... or maybe not. You must try to reach your dreams, maybe, they will come true.

You should never give up and you should be strong and don't let anything destroy you. Forget all your little problems. Let them go, you will solve them later. Most of these problems are related to our physical appearance, don't allow them to influence how you are, you are like you want to be. This society is very demanding, unluckily. Don't care about your "imperfections", they're perfect.

If sometimes you are down, do not allow that depression to dominate you, try to look for help in the people who support you day after day.

Great inventors in the history of mankind have made our lives easier and more comfortable. Here are some of those inventions:

He made this object because he wanted to catch a picture that would last forever. The first portable-camera was created by Joseph Nicéphore Niépce and that camera was called Kodak.

THE LIGHT BULB

This fabulous object was invented by Thomas Edison on 27th January 1880. Since the appearance of the first light bulb it has changed a lot, now it gives more light and it consumes less energy. Also, until the invention of Thomas Edison there were other bulbs, but they weren't like this one, they emitted less light.

THE MOBILE PHONE

The first mobile phone was invented by Bell's laboratories in 1947, in Missouri(USA). This invention could be bought for the first time in 1947, but, the golden age for this invention was the 80's because most of the people bought their first mobile phones in that decade. The first mobile phone was very heavy and also very big so it was uncomfortable to carry.

THE INTERNET

This was invented by some scientists from ARPANET on 21st November 1969.

How to speed your pc

If you have a slow computer you can learn how to speed up your PC here.

The first thing that you have to do is delete all the programs that you do not use. To do that you need go to windows start, then to pre-determine programs, and finally to program information and there you can delete all the programs that you want to delete. You can also delete all repeated or unnecessary files.

A second way is go to your Web browser and search "Ccleaner" and in an official page download the program, then you open the program and left click and choose scan and then clean. The computer will tell you that you have to restart. Then the computer will run better.

Another form is to download a good free antivirus. I recommend these two antivirus: Avira or Avast. Be careful! Do not install together, it can give you an error which forces you to reformat the computer, in the worst case.

Do you know what it is to defrag a hard drive? Well, when you use more and more files and put more programs, the computer will run slower because it needs to search through more files. The solution is to defrag your hard drive. You have to click in "My PC" and now click in optimize. The defrag can take several minutes to do.

DIVERGENT

Divergent is a thrilling action-adventure film based on the Veronica Roth's book called "Divergent". This film is directed by Neil Burger and it was released on March 21, 2014. It lasts 2 hours and 19 minutes.

In addition to this, the Divergent film is set in a futuristic world where society is divided into five factions and each faction represents different human virtues. Beside this, the problem comes when the main character, Tris, discovers that she is divergent which means that she doesn't fit in any faction. That's why Erudition wants to kill her and thank for that life lesson. Tris changed her point of view of life.

Besides to this, Divergent film has a lot of positive points. Firstly, the actors perform their roles perfectly. Moreover, the special effects are very well done and the contrasts between real life and dreams are remarkable.

To sum up, we think that the plot of the book is better than the film's one. However, the Divergent film is totally recommendable for someone who loves action films.

R5 is an American pop rock band formed in Los Angeles, California, in 2009. They are called R5 because all of their names begin with letter R, and they are five. The band consist of Ross, Riker, Rocky, Ratliff and Rydel. Four of them are brothers, and Ratliff is a friend.

Before this group was famous the four brothers studied in a performing art school and Rydel was having keyboard lessons. In the first years they played music in their basement. When Riker was 16 years he decided to go to Los Angeles to carry on with his degree and all the family went with him. There, in a music studio they met Ratliff, who plays the drums, and that's how R5 was created.

In March 2010 first album "Ready" and second album has been the most famous one, called "Loud", was released in February 2013. In the same month they released another work, called "Louder". It's like the album "Loud" but with seven new songs. This group has done six tours since 2012 and 2014.

Joshua Bell

Joshua Bell is a violinist that was born in Bloomington, Indiana, on December 9, 1967. When he was four, he started playing the violin because he got involved by his parents. He studied in the University of Indiana with Josef Gingold, one of the best violinists in the world, and when he was fourteen, he performed with Philadelphia's orchestra. Since then, he has played with the best orchestras of the world.

He has also played the soundtrack of the film "El violín rojo" and famous composers have written for him different works. Today, he has a Stradivarius violin of 1713, the "Gibson ex Huberman", because these violins are given to the best violinists of the world.

On January 12, 2007, Joshua Bell did an experiment in the subway of Washington. He played for an hour with his Stradivarius and people didn't care about him. Almost nobody realized that he was a prodigy of music. At the end of the hour, he earned about 40$ and three days before, people paid 100$ each to see him in the Boston Symphony Hall. Only one person, in this case a woman, recognised him.

"This is not bad", he joked, "almost 40 dollars the hour... I might live of this. And I would not have to pay an agent".

COME AND ENJOY IT!!!!

This is a film based on the theory that we only use ten per cent of our brains skills. So, what could we do if we used 100%?

It is about a girl whose brain becomes powerful enough to see the world as it is. This girl, Lucy, is a student in Taipei, whose physical shows us that she tends to make bad decisions. She is soon shanghaied into a narcotics-smuggling operation, and a pouch of blue crystals is stitched into her belly.

But the bag broke and those blue crystals were absorbed by her body, so her brain goes into overdrive. This is when Lucy's story really begins.

In our opinion, this film has lots of positive points. For instance, it is very entertaining. It also performs the situation that many people live today to earn their living, drug-dealing.

On the other hand, there are some disgusting scenes. Besides, there are some scenes which can get you bored because the film goes so slow.

All in all, we think this film is so dramatic and interesting. It has much action, and you also can learn something while you are entertained. I recommend this movie to all young people and those who are interested in the brain and its uses.

So, what are you waiting for watching it?

HAVING FUN AND EXPLORING AT THE SAME TIME

In Niño Jesús Ikastetxea, our school, 1 and 2 year old children are using their senses to learn. They do different workshops with different ingredients, objects, sounds...

Some years ago the school decided to create a bilingual project to stimulate the senses of the first stage of pre-school education children. This project consists of different workshops.

In these workshops they learn but at the same time they are having fun and exploring new things and ways to do things. They also understand the use of the, smell, taste, view, hear and touch for their daily life.

Here they use habitual things; for example, foods like breadcrumb, flour, chocolate, cereals... With some of these ingredients with the help of the teachers they make pizza so they can eat it later on. They have special food suitable for allergic and celiac children.

There are also sound workshops; they use some plastics bottles to make different sounds and to learn about it.

This is a good way to stimulate their five senses.

When we were children we didn't use to do this type of things. In our opinion it is an advantage for the school and for the children. This project may attract more people to join our school

Gandhi

Mahatma Karamchand Gandhi was born on 2nd October 1869 in Porbandar a coastal town on the Kathiawar Peninsula.

His father, Karamchand Gandhi (1822–1885), served as the diwan of Porbander state. His mother, Putlibai, who was from a Pranami Vaishnava family, was Karamchand's fourth wife.

The Indian classics, especially the stories of Shravana and king Harishchandra, had a great impact on Gandhi in his childhood. In his autobiography, he admits that they left an indelible impression on his mind.

In May 1883, the 13-year-old Mohandas was married to 14-year-old Kasturba Mahanji Kapadia.

Mahatma and Kasturba had four children, all sons: Harilal, born in 1888; Manilal, born in 1892; Ramdas, born in 1897; and Devdas, born in 1900.

On January 30, 1948, Gandhi was assassinated by an extremist Hindu activist. He shot him because he felt that Gandhi was against Muslims.

He was considered a good person and he won the Nobel Price for Peace. On January 30th, we celebrate the day of the peace named after this fantastic person.

Polybius was a videogame which was invented in the United States.

Polybius was released in 1981 in Portland, Oregon. Ed Rotberg was the original director of this videogame.

In this game you had to shoot as many aliens as you could by using one spaceship. This game became very famous and some people said that you had to wait for about one hour to play, it was very addictive.

But, behind this “inoffensive” game, there is a dark truth. Many people allege that, when they were playing this videogame, they could see subliminal messages such as “kill yourself”, “give up”, “why do you damage me? etc.

To make things stranger, many players claimed to see men dressed with black clothes who used to change the game option and take notes of the highest scores.

It is said that the reason why this game disappeared from the Video Arcade rooms very fast was because a 13 year old kid died while he was playing this videogame. After this event, people said that the men dressed in black clothes took the machines and none saw again this videogame.

However, this is only a legend but, in real life, there were some videogames which had secondary effects like epilepsy or amnesia. This was the case of “Tempes” by Atari.

As a curiosity Polybius videogame appeared in a The Simpsons chapter and on the lower part we can read “Property of U.S. government”.

We think that it's a very entertaining series and it teaches a lot of good lessons.

Tattoos

Tattoos are a modification of the skin colour making a drawing, a figure or a text. It is made with sterile needles that inject ink or other pigments on the dermis of a person.

Today, tattoos represent different things for each person. We can find the names of a loved person, or legends that refer to something important, an ideology or a phrase that they admire or like. We can also find representations of flowers and animals that represent the admiration to nature, but the meaning can change for each person.

Nowadays, tattoos can have a short duration or you can have it for the rest of your life.

There are some types of tattoos that have the same meaning for, more or less, all the people. They are:

-HEARTS: Represent love and romances. Friendship, couple, family, and any other kind of romantic relationships. During the Second World War the soldiers have it tattooed with the names of their loved person.

-SWALLOWS : Principally nautical symbol of good luck because seeing a swallow in the sea means that you are close to land. On the other hand, a swallow pierced with a knife or a dagger symbolizes the loss of a loved person at the sea.

-BLUE SPARROWS: In mythology the blue sparrows are recognized as signs of happiness, prosperity, good health and the arrival of the spring. The blue colour of its feathers is associated with the colour of the sky

-PHOENIX: Ancient Greeks and Egyptians used to think that the phoenix represents the sun dying in flames every night and returning to start the day. As a tattoo represents the femininity and every part of his body represents different virtues: duty, kindness, confidence... The flames that often appear represent purification.

-TIGERS: The tigers are common tattoos in Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, China and Japan usually associated with power, ferocity, passion, sensuality, beauty, speed, cruelty and anger.

-CROSS: Symbol associated with religion. But long before it was a symbol associated with immortality, fertility and the union of heaven and earth. The four arms represent the cardinal points, the four elements and the man himself.

HOW TO SHOP

(for teens)

There are eight principal points to have on mind to go on shopping specially when the shoppers are teenagers because many times these situations can take on a catastrophe for different reasons. These are the points:

1 Take a partner. It's easier to make a decision on something when someone else is giving their opinion too. Bring a friend or family member, not only for their opinion, also to keep yourself safe. It will be really funny!

2 Set a budget for yourself. It's hard, but it's always better to set a budget and stick to it. It's better in the long run. Bring an amount of cash that you're comfortable spending - if your spending limit is 50€, bring only 50€ to spend! This ensures that you won't blow your money in one day.

3 Make a list of things you specifically need or want. This will prevent you from wasting time. Before you hit the stores, go on-line and look at the websites of your favourite stores. Find items that you like there, then write them down and find them in the store.

4 Go into stores. Popular teen stores include, Claire's, Berskha, Stradivarius, Primark, PINK, PullandBear, H&M and many more. You should consider trying different stores (like boutiques). You never know what you'll find in that little unknown store. Maybe some new clothes or something you'd like to improve your style with. Just because "everyone" doesn't shop there doesn't mean it's a bad store; it might become one of your favourites!

5 Check out the material. If you're buying something that you don't try on, like socks, always touch them before buying. Stick your hand in it, and see if it's bad, or just right. Maybe there's a stain? Ask for another one that looks in better condition. Or perhaps it looks better. If you are allergic to some materials, read the label to see what it is made of.
